SCHEDULE

Clemson plays eight bowl teams who finished with winning records in 2017 according to the 2018 football schedule released by the Atlantic Coast Conference in January. The slate also includes a pair of non-conference games against SEC teams for the eighth time in the last nine years.

The schedule is unusual in that Clemson will not have consecutive home games until the last two games of the season, the first time that has happened since 1986 when the Tigers had just five home games. The schedule alternates home and away games for the first 11 games of the season, a first in school history.

Dabo Swinney's Tigers will play all 12 of their regular season games on Saturdays for the first time since 2015 and for just the second time in the last seven years. The open date is on October 13, squarely in the middle of the schedule.

Clemson opens the season against Furman on September 1. The Paladins are Clemson's oldest football rival, as the schools met in Clemson's first football game in 1896. It will be the first meeting between the institutions since 2012.

The Tigers then go on the road to face Texas A&M at Kyle Field, a venue that holds over 100,000 fans. It will be Clemson's first trip to Texas A&M since 2004 when the Aggies defeated the Tigers, 27-6. Clemson won the last meeting 25-24 at Death Valley on a last second field goal by Jad Dean.

Clemson returns home the following Saturday for its third-straight non-conference game against Georgia Southern in the first meeting between the two schools.

The league schedule opens on September 22 at Georgia Tech, the sixth straight year Clemson has had its first league game on the road. Clemson has won at Georgia Tech just once since 2003 and the victory took place in 2016 during Clemson's National Championship season.

Clemson faces Syracuse in its first ACC home game on September 29th. The Orange upset the Tigers last year in New York in Clemson's only regular season loss.

Clemson then travels to Wake Forest for the first game of October on the sixth of the month. The Tigers have won 10 straight games dating to 2011 in the state of North Carolina, including three ACC Championship games played in Charlotte.

After the open date, Clemson returns home to face NC State. The Tigers have won consecutive games by seven points or less over the Wolfpack, the only ACC opponent to be within a touchdown of the Tigers each of the last two seasons.

Clemson and Florida State meet in Tallahassee on October 27 in a battle of the schools that have won each of the last nine Atlantic Division championships. Clemson has won each of the last three meetings, including last season's 31-14 victory which clinched the division title.

Three of Clemson's four games in November will be at home and the month begins against Louisville on November 3. The Tigers have defeated Louisville all four years the Cardinals have been in the ACC, but three of the wins have been by a touchdown or less.

Clemson's final ACC road game will be at Boston College on November 10. It will be Clemson's latest trip to Boston on the calendar since the Eagles joined the ACC in 2005. Clemson has won seven straight games over the Eagles.

Swinney's Tigers conclude their ACC slate on November 17 with a home game against Duke, the first meeting between the two schools since 2012, and Duke's first trip to Death Valley since 2008 when Swinney was the interim coach. Duke has not won at Clemson since the year 1980.

The regular season schedule concludes on November 24 when South Carolina comes to Clemson. The Tigers have won the annual state rivalry game four consecutive years.

OUTLOOK

In the spring of 2017 media all over the United States applauded Clemson's 2016 National Championship, but the tenor of their coverage was to tap the Tigers on the head and say "Good job in 2016, but good luck in the future without Deshaun Watson....and others."

There was no denying that Watson was a player for the ages. It may be a long time before Clemson has a two-time Heisman Finalist who quarterbacked the Tigers to over 1000 yards total offense against Alabama over consecutive National Championship game appearances.

But, Dabo Swinney built the Clemson program for the long term. The 2017 Tigers reached the College Football Playoff with a 12-1 record and a school record six wins over top 25 teams without Watson and the many other stars on the national title team. The schedule was difficult as Clemson had nine wins over teams that would finish the season with at least eight wins, tied for the most in the nation.

"The legacy of the 2017 team will be that we are built to last," said Swinney. "All last summer all the questions I received from the media were about Deshaun Watson, Mike Williams, Wayne Gallman and Ben Boulware, players who weren't here any more. I believe our 2017 team saw that and it was a motivating factor."

When the preseason AP and Coach's polls were released last year Clemson was fifth, a strong ranking, but Clemson was the first returning national champion not in the top four since Auburn in 2011.

The roles are reversed heading into the 2018 season because the Tigers have as strong a group of returning experienced and decorated players as they have for any previous year in history.

Clemson returns 62 lettermen from 2017 that finished fourth in the final AP and USA Today Coaches polls. That is the most returning lettermen in Clemson history by six.

The Tigers have 17 starters returning, including the starting punter and placekicker, just one short of the school record of 18 returning starters for the 1977, 1981 and 1988 seasons. A check to the records will show those were outstanding seasons in Clemson history, led by the 1981 team that won the school's first National Championship.

The list of returnees includes four first-team All-Americans, a first in Clemson history. Three of the returning All-Americans, Christian Wilkins, Clelin Ferrell and Austin Bryant, are defensive linemen. It is believed to be the first time in college football history a school has had three returning first-team All-America defensive linemen on the same team.

The fourth returning first-team All-American is offensive tackle Mitch Hyatt, who has been a starter since his freshman year. He was a first-team selection by The Sporting News and ESPN last year when he became the first Clemson offensive lineman in 30 years to win the ACC's Jacobs Blocking Trophy, an honor that goes to the top offensive lineman in the ACC.

While last year Clemson was third from the bottom among FBS teams in percentage of total rushing and passing yards returning at just 23 percent, Clemson returns players who accounted for 72 percent of the total offense for 2018. The Tigers return three 600-yard rushers for the first time in school history in Travis Etienne, Tavien Feaster and quarterback Kelly Bryant, and top receiver Hunter Renfrow, who had 60 catches for 602 yards.

Clemson returns eight starters from a defense that was second in the nation in scoring defense, allowing 13.6 points per game. The Tigers were fourth in total defense (276.7), fourth in passing yards allowed per game (161.9) and 12th in rushing defense (114.9). Clemson led the ACC in rushing, scoring, passing and total defense, the first time a Clemson defense has led the league in all four defensive categories in the same year.

Offense (28 Returning Lettermen, 7 Returning Starters)

Clemson had a balanced offense in 2017 and that should be the case again in 2018. The Tigers passed for 3,297 yards and rushed for 2,717 yards, just the second team in Clemson history to pass for 3,200 yards and rush for 2,700 in the same season.

Kelly Bryant returns at quarterback after guiding the Tigers to 12 wins as the starting quarterback, including a record six wins over top 25 teams. He joined Tajh Boyd as the only Clemson quarterbacks in the last 50 years to lead the Tigers to an ACC championship without having started a game in a previous year.

Bryant completed 262 of 398 for 2802 yards and 13 touchdowns against just eight interceptions. His .658 completion percentage was 10th best in the nation. The native of Calhoun Falls, SC also rushed for 665 yards on a team high 192 carries and scored 11 touchdowns. He tied the school record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback on the way to averaging 248 yards per game in total offense.

Bryant had 106 yards rushing and two touchdowns against Boston College, and completed 23-29 passes for 252 yards and a touchdown in the ACC Championship game against Miami. He had a streak of 15 straight completions against the Hurricanes and was named the Most Valuable Player.

Hunter Johnson is a returning letterman behind Bryant who completed 21-27 passes for 234 yards and two scores a year ago. He was first in the nation in completion percentage (.778) among passers with at least 25 attempts. Redshirt freshman Chase Brice and true freshman Trevor Lawrence also will be in the mix at quarterback. Lawrence was the number-one player in the nation according to some services last year.

"We are very talented and deep at quarterback," said Swinney. "Kelly Bryant is the starter after he had an outstanding 2017 season taking us to an ACC Championship and the College Football Playoffs. I was so proud of what he accomplished."

"But just like Christian Wilkins at defensive tackle and Mitch Hyatt at left tackle, Kelly will have to continue to perform at a high level. That is the way it is every year at every position."

While Clemson teams of the recent past had 1000-yard receivers and 1000-yard rushers, the 2017 Clemson team had a more even distribution in terms of yardage. The Tigers had three 600-yard rushers and three 500-yard receivers, a first in school history.

In addition to Bryant, Clemson returns two other players who had at least 600 yards rushing last year. Travis Etienne and Tavien Feaster have to be considered the best young running back combination Clemson has had since 2006 when sophomore James Davis and freshman C.J. Spiller ran through opposing defensive lines.

Etienne and Feaster both averaged at least six yards per rush last year. Their respective yards per carry figures both ranked in the top 10 in Clemson history. Both also showed their speed, as each had runs of at least 80 yards, the only running back tandem to each have an 80-yard run in college football last year.

Etienne is a sophomore in 2018 who had 107 rushes for 766 yards and a Clemson freshman record 13 touchdowns last year. His 7.16 yards per carry average is fourth best in Clemson history and best since C.J. Spiller's freshman year (2006) when he had a 7.27 average. The third-team All-ACC selection showed his speed with an 81-yard touchdown run at Louisville and showed his ability to produce in the clutch when he had 16-97 yards and two scores in an important win over Florida State.

Feaster, a junior from Spartanburg, SC., finished 2017 with 678 yards rushing on 107 attempts (yes, same attempt total as Etienne) and scored seven touchdowns. His season included an 89-yard touchdown run at NC State and their ballyhooed defensive line. He had 105 yards rushing in just seven carries in that game. Feaster also showed his ability to catch the ball with 12 receptions for 112 yards and a touchdown.

Adam Choice is a third returning running back with outstanding all-around skill. He had 326 yards and a 5.0 average last year when he scored six touchdowns and he has 702 career yards in 30 games. The Clemson graduate also has 21 career receptions for 176 yards. He showed his production against Louisville (4-47), Georgia Tech (8-54) and Florida State (7-40) last year.

Dabo Swinney's receivers will miss Deon Cain (58-734-6) and Ray-Ray McCloud (49-503-1). Both decided to turn professional after their junior seasons at Clemson.

But, Swinney does have his top receiver returning in Hunter Renfrow, who had 60 catches for 602 yards and three scores in 2017. The former walk-on who caught the winning touchdown against Alabama in the 2016 season National Championship game made third-team All-ACC a year ago and scored two touchdowns against rival South Carolina.

Renfrow has a streak of 28 straight games with a reception entering 2018 and he has 137 career receptions for 1,589 yards and 14 touchdowns. Few thought he would have a chance for 2,000 receiving yards when he came to Clemson as a walk-on. In five career College Football Playoff games the native of Myrtle Beach has 31 receptions, four of whom have gone for touchdowns.

The second most productive receiver among the returning players is sophomore Tee Higgins, who caught 17 passes for 345 yards and two scores last year. His 20.3 yards per catch average led the team. Classmate and fellow Tennessean Amari Rodgers had 19 receptions in 2017 for 123 yards.

Other returning lettermen who study under co-offensive coordinator Jeff Scott include, Diondre Overton (14-178), graduate Trevion Thompson (11-94), Cornell Powell (8-57-1) and T.J. Chase (5-35-1).

"I am anxious to see our young receivers step up. Many got some experience last year, but there are more openings for playing time with Deon and Ray-Ray turning professional. We definitely have a talented group."

Milan Richard is the returning starter at tight end. The nephew of former Heisman Trophy winner Herschel Walker had a fine junior season as a blocker and receiver. He finished with 18 catches (fifth on the team) for 210 yards and a score.

Other tight ends who return with letters include Cannon Smith (3-24-1) and J.C. Chalk (2-19). Smith is the son of former Clemson defensive end Bill Smith, a starter on Clemson's National Championship team of 1981, and Chalk is the grandson of Hall of Fame coach Gene Stallings.

Clemson returns three starters in the offensive line and all are coming off an All-ACC season. The group is led by returning All-American Mitch Hyatt, who was named a first-team All-American by Sporting News and ESPN, and a second-team selection by USA Today, Associated Press and the American Football Coaches Association.

Hyatt will be in his fourth year as starting left tackle in 2018. He has an even 100 knockdown blocks in 43 games entering his final year as the prime protector of the Clemson quarterback's blind side. Barring injury, he will become the first Clemson offensive lineman in history to start 50 games.

While Hyatt came into 2017 as a much publicized talent, no one knew much about center Justin Falcinelli. The Clemson graduate was replacing first-team All-ACC center Jay Guillermo, who was a leader of Clemson's 2016 National Championship team. But, Falcinelli continued the tradition of excellence at center and made first-team All-ACC as he played 932 snaps, more than any player on the 2017 team.

Sean Pollard and Tremayne Anchrum are two more returning players with significant starting experience. Pollard, a third-team All-ACC selection in 2017, is considered the returning starter at right tackle after starting nine of the 14 games and playing 510 snaps. Anchrum started just six games last year, but played more snaps than Pollard with 577.

"We have returning experienced players in the offensive line, but we might move some players around, especially in the spring and August, to find the best five players," said Swinney. "We will cross train often during the spring as we have done with previous teams. Coach (Robbie) Caldwell has always liked to cross train and have his group as versatile as possible and I feel the same way."

As a result, Pollard saw significant time at guard during the spring of 2018 and Anchrum also saw time at both spots. Regardless of where they play, plan on Pollard and Anchrum showing up on the first team in 2018.

John Simpson is a strong candidate to hold down one of the starting offensive line positions. The 6-4, 320 pounders from North Charleston, SC played 300 snaps in 12 games last year. He is a veteran of 21 games in the last two years.

The Tigers have depth in the offensive line with the return of lettermen Zach Giella, Chandler Reeves, Seth Penner and Cade Stewart. Freshman Jackson Carman is one of the most talented incoming freshmen in the nation.

Defense (29 Returning Lettermen, 8 returning starters)

Clemson returns eight starters on defense, including six of its front seven and all four starting defensive linemen from a defense that allowed just 13.6 points per game, second in the nation. The Tigers allowed just 277 yards per game last year, fourth best in the nation.

Christian Wilkins is the most experienced and decorated of the Clemson defensive linemen. The 310-pounder who has made All-American as a defensive end and defensive tackle over the last two years, had 53 tackles last year, including 8.5 tackles for loss and 4.5 sacks. At the conclusion of the season he won the Willis Award from the Columbus (OH) Touchdown Club as the top defensive lineman in the nation.

A finalist for the Bronko Nagurski Award in 2016, Wilkins has played 44 games for the Tigers and Clemson has won 40 of them. He is a veteran of five College Football Playoff Games and three ACC Championship game victories. He has 193 career tackles entering his final year, including 26 tackles for loss to go with 10 sacks and 43 career quarterback pressures.

While Wilkins was a first-team All-American by the Football Coaches Association, defensive end Clelin Ferrell was a first-team selection by The Associated Press. A junior in eligibility, Ferrell will have a chance to join Terry Kinard (1981-82) as the only two-time first-team AP All-Americans in Clemson history.

As a red-shirt sophomore, Ferrell had 63 tackles, including a team best 18 tackles for loss and a team best 9.5 sacks. Ferrell was the only player in college football with a pair of games with at least five tackles for loss in 2017. A starter in each of his 29 games as a Tiger, Ferrell has 30.5 career tackles for loss, including 15.5 sacks and 36 quarterback pressures.

Defensive end Austin Bryant was a first-team All-America selection by the Football Writers Association and a second-team selection by the Walter Camp Foundation in 2017 when he had 58 tackles, including 50 first hits. The native of Georgia had 15.5 tackles for loss, including 8.5 sacks, second on the team on both categories.

Bryant burst on the scene when he had four sacks against Auburn in a nationally televised game. That tied the Clemson single game record and was the most by a Clemson player against an SEC team.

Dexter Lawrence did not make a first-team All-American team in 2017 as he missed some time due to a foot injury. But the rising junior was a first-team All-ACC selection after picking up 39 tackles during Clemson's 12-2 season. He is a veteran of 23 starts in two years and is considered the top draft prospect among Clemson's front four.

Albert Huggins and Nyles Pinckney are two returning defensive tackles who would start at most schools. Huggins had two starts and five tackles for loss in 13 games last year. The senior is a veteran of 32 games and 503 snaps. Pinckney, a sophomore, played 14 games last year for 174 snaps and finished with 18 tackles.

Swinney has three more defensive ends returning who have already earned letters. That list includes Justin Foster, a sophomore who had eight tackles in nine games a year ago, Xavier Kelley, another sophomore, who had eight tackles in eight games a year ago, and Chris Register, a graduate student who had 10 tackles in 14 games.

Clemson brought in a talented group of freshmen in the 2018 recruiting class. Xavier Thomas, Josh Belk, K.J. Henry and Darnell Jefferies were all highly thought of according to ESPN.com and Rivals.com.

"I really didn't think all three of the defensive linemen would return, but I had saved scholarships for them," said Swinney with a smile. "But I tell them, the best defense we have had was the 2014 group that led the nation in 11 different categories. They set the standard. This group has to do it on the field."

Brent Venables defense is not quite as deep at linebacker, but there are two returning starters and eight returning lettermen at the second line of defense on the 2018 team.

Leading the linebackers is graduate student Kendall Joseph.

A native of nearby Belton, SC, Joseph was a third-team All-ACC

"THE LEGACY OF THE 2017 TEAM WILL BE THAT WE ARE BUILT TO LAST."

performer last year when he had 87 tackles, second on the team to Dorian O'Daniel's 104. Joseph missed two games due to injury near the end of the season, or he would have had over 100 tackles for the Clemson defense that ranked 12th in the nation in rushing defense and fourth in pass defense. Joseph is a veteran of 34 games played, 26 as a starter, and his 222 career tackles are more than any other active Tiger.

Tre Lamar returns as a starter at linebacker as well. The junior had 52 tackles in the first 10 games of the year, but he missed the last four games due to an injury. His 15-yard sack against Florida State turned the game around and he had 10 tackles in the win over Wake Forest.

O'Daniel, a finalist for the Butkus Award, was Clemson's most valuable player on defense according to many last year, but he has graduated and moved on to the NFL.

There will be plenty of candidates for O'Daniel's starting position. J.D. Davis started five games and played in all 14 last year when he had 55 tackles, including 4.5 tackles for loss. The graduate student had eight tackles in the win over Florida State and seven in the semifinal loss against Alabama.

James Skalski started two games at linebacker last year and had 37 total tackles at linebacker. He finished the year strong with 21 tackles in his last four games, including six in the win over South Carolina.

Jalen Williams is one of the most athletic linebackers on the Clemson team. The graduate had 18 tackles a year ago and has 57 for his career in 37 games. Chad Smith is another experienced letterman back at linebacker. No. 43 has 39 tackles in 26 games as a Tiger. Shaq Smith had 14 tackles in 13 games at a linebacker position as a red-shirt freshman. Judah Davis, J.D.'s twin brother, also will be a candidate for playing time after he comes off an injury plagued season.

Clemson must replace two starters in the secondary. Ryan Carter was one of the great stories of the Tigers team in 2017, as he finished with 31 tackles to match the number on his back. Clemson's top cover corner had a team best 13 passes defended, including three interceptions, one that he returned for a touchdown at South Carolina.

The Tigers also must replace safety Van Smith, who had 60 tackles as a junior in 14 starts. He decided to turn professional at the end of the year.

Tanner Muse is a returning starter at safety with 64 tackles, third on the Clemson team and second among returning Tigers. The active defender also has two defensive touchdowns, both against Syracuse.

Replacing Smith could be in the hands of the versatile Isaiah Simmons, who had 49 tackles in 12 games last year, all as a reserve. He had a career high nine tackles in the win at a top 20 Louisville team. K'Von Wallace, who had 36 tackles in 14 games, six as a starter, is another gifted player in the secondary.

Returning lettermen Nolan Turner and Kenzel Johnson will also be factors at safety.

Trayvon Mullen is a returning starter at one cornerback. In 13 games, 12 as a starter, Mullen had 42 tackles, three interceptions and 10 passes defended, most among returning players.

Mark Fields and A. J. Terrell are two more returning lettermen with experience at cornerback. Fields missed much of the second half of the 2017 season due to injury, but still found time to have 20 tackles in eight games. Terrell played in all 14 games and got better as the season went on during his true freshman year. The native of Atlanta, Ga., had seven passes defended, most among the reserves.

Special Teams (5 Returning Lettermen, 2 Returning Starters)

Clemson returns both of its starting kickers. In fact the Tigers will have a battle for the starting placekicker position, as 2015 and 2016 starter Greg Huegel will return from a torn ACL. Alex Spence became the starter four games into last year and ended up being the starter.

Huegel had 27 field goals to lead the nation as a freshman in 2015. He had an All-ACC season in 2016 as well and has made 43-55 field goals for his career. He has scored 271 points to rank 10th in Clemson history.

Spence got off to a slow start after Huegel's injury, but he finished 9-14 after making seven of his last eight, including 2-2 against Alabama in the Sugar Bowl, both from at least 40 yards. Spence was named to the 2017 Academic All-ACC team.

Will Spiers returns as Clemson's starting punter. The sophomore averaged a solid 40.6 yards per punt, but had 25 punts inside the 20, second most in a season in Clemson history. He had just four touchdowns against those 25 punts inside the 20, and added 12 punts of 50 yards or more.

Clemson will miss Ray-Ray McCloud in the return game as he finished 10th in the nation in punt returns and was a second-team All-American as a return specialist by one service. Freshman Derion Kendrick could fill that role.

Clemson returns both snappers, in Patrick Phibbs and Austin Spence, and holder Will Swinney.

- The Clemson defense led the ACC in total defense, rushing defense, pass defense and scoring defense. No previous Clemson team had led the ACC in all four categories in the same year.
- Clemson team reached these accomplishments in 2017 with an offense that returned players who accounted for just 23 percent of the total offense in 2016, third lowest percentage in the nation.
- Clemson posted a 9-1 record against teams with a winning record in 2017, most wins in the nation against teams with a winning mark. The nine wins are the second most in one season in Clemson history. Clemson had 11 in 2016.
- Clemson has 82 wins over the last 7 years and 47 of them came against teams that finished the season with a winning record. Prior to the Swinney era, the most wins over teams with a winning record in a seven-year period was 30 (1986-92).
- The 38-3 win over No. 7 Miami in the ACC Championship game was the largest victory margin over a top 25 team in school history.
- Clemson became the first program to have assistant coaches win the Broyles Award in consecutive years. (Brent Venables in 2016 and Tony Elliott in 2017.)
- Program had a school record 12-game road winning streak dating back to 2015 before it was snapped at Syracuse.
- Had a streak of 11 consecutive wins over top 25 teams, longest streak in ACC history. It was broken by Alabama in the CFP.

CLEMSON WELCOMES NINE MIDYEAR ENROLLEES

Nine freshman midyear enrollees from five different states joined the Clemson football program in January. The group is tied for the biggest class of midyears for the Clemson program. The program also had nine midyear enrollees in 2015.

This year's midyear class includes four of the top 12 players in the nation according to ESPN.com and 247 Sports. Four of the players are ranked as the top player in their respective states.

The list of midyear enrollees includes quarterback Trevor Lawrence of Cartersville, Ga., the number-one player in the nation according to Rivals and 247 sports and the No. 2 player by ESPN. Defensive lineman Xavier Thomas of Florence, S.C. is ranked as the No. 3 player in the nation by ESPN and 247 Sports and the No. 4 player by Rivals.

K.J. Henry is a defensive end from Clemmons, NC who is ranked as the No. 5 overall player in the nation by ESPN and No. 8 by 247 sports. Offensive lineman Jackson Carman is ranked ninth overall by 247 Sports and 12th by ESPN.

Lawrence, Thomas, Henry and Jackson are all rated as the top player in their respective states. Also enrolling at Clemson in January were Mike Jones, Jr (Nashville, Tenn), Derion Kendrick (Rock Hill, SC), Josh Belk (Fort Lawn, SC), Darnell Jefferies (Covington, Ga.) and Braden Galloway (Anderson, S.C.)

CLEMSON FOURTH IN FINAL POLLS

Clemson finished fourth in the final Associated Press and Amway/USA Today Coaches college football Polls released on January 10, 2018. It marked the seventh consecutive year Clemson had a top 25 finish, now the longest streak in Clemson history. The previous best streak of six years in a row in the final top 25 took place between 1986-91.

Alabama, 26-23 overtime winners against Georgia in the championship game, finished No. 1 in both polls, while Georgia was second. Oklahoma, with the same final 12-2 record as the Tigers, finished third. Ohio State was fifth in both polls.

This marked the third consecutive top four final ranking for Dabo Swinney and the Tigers. Clemson finished second in 2015 and No. 1 in 2016. Only Alabama has a longer streak of consecutive years in the final top 25 with 10. After the Tigers with seven straight years are Ohio State (6) and Wisconsin (5).

Clemson joins Florida State (1992-99) as the only ACC programs with a streak of at least three consecutive top four finishes.

This is just the fourth top five finish for the Clemson program. The only year other than the last three took place in 1981 when Clemson won its first National Championship.

With the No. 4 finish after a No. 5 preseason ranking in both polls, the 2017 season marks the seventh straight year Clemson has finished at least the same as its preseason ranking. Dabo Swinney is the only coach in FBS history to have a run of seven straight years of finishing at least the same as the preseason Associated Press ranking. He has actually finished higher in the final ranking when compared to the preseason ranking seven consecutive years in the USA Today Coaches Poll.

Clemson's No. 4 final AP ranking marks the 52nd consecutive poll the Tigers have been included in the Top 25, the third longest active streak in the nation behind Alabama (163) and Ohio State (98). It is Clemson's 43rd consecutive top 10 ranking, tied for the longest current streak in the nation with Alabama.

Clemson finished the 2017 season with a 12-2 overall record, including 8-1 vs. ACC teams. The Tigers won their third straight ACC Championship, the longest streak for the program since winning three in a row from 1986-88. The Tigers had a 9-1 record against teams with a winning record, the most wins in the nation over teams that finished the season with a winning record.

Clemson had six wins over teams ranked in the top 25 by either AP, USA Today or the College Football Playoff Poll entering the game. That was the most in the nation and the most in a season in school history. Clemson has 15 top 25 wins (ranking entering the game) over the last three years.

OTHER POLL NOTES:

- Clemson has been ranked No. 1 in the nation at least once in each of the last three years. Alabama is the only other school that can make that claim.
- This was the 31st season Clemson has finished with a top 25 ranking in the AP poll.
- Clemson enters the 2018 season with a school record streak of 52 consecutive appearances in the AP Top 25 poll.
- This marks the eighth time in nine full seasons as head coach that Dabo Swinney's Tigers have had a final top 25 ranking.
- This marks the eighth straight odd numbered season that Clemson has finished in the top 25 of both polls. That streak goes back to 2001.
- Over the last seven years Clemson has appeared in 106 of 113 polls. That ranks third behind Alabama (113 of 113) and Oklahoma (109 of 113).
- Clemson defeated four teams that finish in the AP top 25. Those teams were No. 10 Auburn, No. 13 Miami (FL), No. 23 NC State, No.24 Virginia Tech. Clemson tied for first in the nation in victories over teams that finished the season in the top 25 of the AP poll. Clemson, Notre Dame, Alabama, Oklahoma, Georgia, Ohio State, UCF all had four wins over teams that finished in the top 25.

FINAL AP POLL FOR 2017

SCOTT HONORED BY TWO SERVICES FOR RECRUITING EXCELLENCE

Clemson co-offensive coordinator Jeff Scott was honored by Rivals.com and 247 Sports for his excellence in recruiting in 2017-18. Rivals.com named Scott one of the top 25 recruiters in the nation, and 247 Sports ranked him as the Best Recruiter in the ACC.

It marked the fourth straight year Scott had been named to the list of Top 25 recruiters by Rivals.com. Scott had a lot to do with Clemson's No. 5 recruiting ranking by ESPN, No. 6 by 247 Sports and No. 8 by Rivals.com. Clemson had the third highest ranking nationally by Rivals.com in terms of stars per player.

Scott has helped Clemson to a top 10 recruiting ranking by ESPN each of the last four years, which has led to a 40-4 record on the field, three ACC Championships and a national championship. Clemson has finished second, first and fourth in the nation in the final AP polls the last three years.

Clemson has a streak of seven consecutive years with at least 10 wins, something only Alabama has duplicated. Clemson has a 101-30 record since he became an assistant coach under Dabo Swinney.

RECORD SETTING 8 CLEMSON PLAYERS NAMED ACADEMIC ALL-ACC

Christian Wilkins heads a record setting eight Clemson football players named to the All-ACC Academic Team for 2017. The previous record was seven set by Dabo Swinney's first Clemson team.

Duke had the most selections to the 2017 team with 13, while Pittsburgh was second with nine. The Tigers were third with eight selections, while Syracuse and Virginia were tied for fourth with six apiece.

In addition to Wilkins, Travis Etienne, Justin Falcinelli, Sean Pollard, James Skalski, Will Spiers, Alex Spence and K'Von Wallace were named.

Wilkins was a first-team All-American on the field, while Falcinelli was named first-team All-ACC center. Pollard, a starting tackle, and Etienne, Clemson's leading rusher, were both third-team All-ACC selections on the field.

Wilkins was named Academic All-ACC for the third straight year and will have a chance to join former center Dalton Freeman as the only four time Academic All-ACC selections in school history next year. Wilkins is already the first Clemson defensive lineman and just the fourth defensive player in school history to be named Academic All-ACC three times.

All eight Clemson players named to the Academic All-ACC team return for the 2018 season.

CHRISTIAN WILKINS NAMED RECIPIENT OF WILLIS AWARD

Clemson defensive tackle Christian Wilkins was named the recipient of the 2017 Bill Willis Award as the National Defensive Lineman of the Year by the Columbus (OH) Touchdown Club.

The junior from Springfield, Mass was named a first-team All-American by the Football Coaches Association and the Sporting News and a second-team selection by Associated Press. A first-team All-ACC player, Wilkins had 53 tackles, 8.5 tackles for loss and 4.5 sacks in 2017. He also had four passes broken up and 10 quarterback pressures.

He had a dominant performance in Clemson's ACC Championship victory over Miami (FL) when he had seven tackles, 2.5 tackles for loss, a sack and two pass deflections. He was a major reason Clemson held Miami (FL) to three points and 214 yards of total offense.

Wilkins graduated from Clemson on December 21, 2017 and is the first Clemson scholarship player to graduate in two-and-a-half years. He was named an Academic All-District selection by the College Sports Information Directors of America this season when he had a 3.32 GPA. He has already been named to the Academic All-ACC team three times.

ETIENNE AND FEASTER PROVIDE TOP 10 YARDS/CARRY

Clemson running backs Travis Etienne and Tavien Feaster both averaged over six yards per rush in 2017. They were the first duo in Clemson history to average at least six yards per rush over the course of a season.

Both players had exactly 107 rushing attempts in 2017. Etienne gained 766 yards for a 7.16 average and Feaster gained 669 yards for a 6.25 average. Etienne's average was the fourth best in Clemson history, while Feaster's is eighth best.

CLEMSON RETURNS THREE FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICANS IN DL

Clemson returns a veteran defensive line, perhaps the most experienced and decorated in college football history.

During the 2017 season, Christian Wilkins was named a first-team All-American by The Sporting News and the American Football Coaches Association. Clelin Ferrell was named a first-team All-American by Associated Press and Austin Bryant was a first-team selection by the Football Writers Association.

All of the above listed All-America teams are among the five that are used to determine the Consensus All-American team each year. This is the first time on record that a school has had three returning first-team All-American defensive linemen using the five teams that are the basis for consensus All-American.

The one player who did not make first-team All-American on Clemson's defensive line was Dexter Lawrence, who was hurt a good deal of the year. But the defensive tackle did make first-team All-ACC.

A look to the chart below shows that the four returning defensive linemen for Clemson have combined for 136 games played with 96 starts and 5,524 snaps. They have a combined 533 tackles, 89.5 of which are tackles for loss, including 47 sacks.

FIFTEEN TIGERS EARNED DEGREES IN DECEMBER

Fifteen Clemson football student-athletes, including two sets of twins, received undergraduate degrees over two graduation ceremonies at Littlejohn Coliseum on December 21, 2017. Clemson had 23 graduates on the roster for the Sugar Bowl game against Alabama.

NOTES OF INTEREST

With the December graduation ceremonies, 172 of 177 senior student-athletes since Dabo Swinney became the permanent head coach of the Clemson football program, have graduated. Seventeen of the 24 starters on the 2016 National Championship team have their degrees. Six of the seven without a degree are still on the Clemson team in 2018.

Among the student-athletes earning their degrees on December 21 were twin brothers Judah and J.D. Davis, and twin brothers Kaleb and Kelby Bevelle. It is the first time two sets of twins on the Clemson football team have graduated on the same day.

Also earning his undergraduate degree was two-time All-American Christian Wilkins. The native of Springfield, Mass. earned his degree in just two and a half years, the first scholarship football player to do that. Patrick Godfrey, a walkon on the current Clemson team also did it last year.

In addition to Wilkins, starting players Taylor Hearn, Kendall Joseph, and Milan Richard all earned degrees on December 21. Other Tigers who received academic degrees at one of the two ceremonies were Adam Choice, Chris Register, Jabril Robinson, Jack Swinney, Trevion Thompson, Jalen Williams and Richard Yeargin.

HALL NAMED CLEMSON DEFENSIVE ENDS COACH

Lemanski Hall has been named defensive ends coach for Clemson's 2018 football staff. He served the previous three years on Dabo Swinney's staff as a defensive analyst.

The NCAA approved a 10th full time assistant coach starting with the 2018 season and Hall fills that role. The rule went into effect on January 9 and that was Hall's first day of work in the new position.

In Hall's three years in the defensive analyst position the Tigers posted a 40-4 record and won the ACC Championship all three seasons. The program also advanced to the College Football Playoff all three years and won the National Championship in 2016.

Hall has known Swinney since they were teammates at Alabama between 1990-92. A native of Valley, Alabama, Hall was a starting linebacker on the 1992 Alabama National Championship team under Head Coach Gene Stallings. That team finished with a 13-0 record, the first Alabama team to win 13 games in a season.

That year Hall was a first-team All-SEC selection when he led the team in tackles with 70 and had five quarterback sacks. He was also named an honorable mention All-American by United Press International.

Hall had 76 tackles as a senior in 1993 when he helped Alabama to a 9-3-1 record and a No. 14 final Associated Press ranking. He was named a co-captain of that Alabama team. For his career, Hall played in 46 games and had 192 tackles, 18 tackles for loss, eight of which were sacks. He was named to the Alabama All-Decade team for the 1990s. Alabama had a 40-9-1 record during his four years on the team (1990-93).

Hall was drafted by the Houston Oilers and played in the NFL for the Chicago Bears, Dallas Cowboys and the Minnesota Vikings. He was a starter for the Vikings in 2001, his next to the last season in the league. He played in 101 NFL games over nine seasons (1994-02).

EXCEEDING EXPECTATIONS SEVEN YEARS IN A ROW

Clemson has equaled or exceeded its postseason AP and USA Today rankings in comparison to its preseason rankings each of the last seven years. That was quite an accomplishment in 2016 as Clemson was No. 2 in the preseason of both polls and had to finish No. 1 to exceed the preseason rankings. Well, the Tigers accomplished that by winning the national championship.

In 2017 Clemson was ranked fifth in both preseason polls and finished fourth.

Clemson has exceeded its preseason ranking each of the last seven years in the USA Today Coaches poll and has exceeded its preseason ranking in the AP poll six of the seven. Clemson was picked eighth in the AP preseason poll in 2013 and finished eighth. Dabo Swinney is the first coach in history with a seven-year streak in that area. John Cooper of Ohio State and Bill Snyder of Kansas State had five-year streaks.

WINNINGEST CLASSES IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL HISTORY

Clemson's senior class of 2017 became the winningest in ACC history with the 38-3 win over Miami (FL) in the league championship game. This group of six scholarship seniors posted a 50-7 record and that tied for the third most wins for a class in college football history.

Clemson has had records of 10-3, 14-1, 14-1 and 12-2 the last four years, while Alabama has been 12-2, 14-1, 14-1 and 13-1.

Clemson's current junior class is 40-4 in three years. That is already the fifth most wins by a Clemson senior class. In other words the current Clemson juniors could go all of next year without a win and still finish fifth in school history in wins for a senior class.

CLEMSON SECOND IN WINS OVER LAST 7 YEARS

Clemson has an 82-15 record over the last seven seasons, or since the beginning of the 2011 season. The win against The Citadel gave the Tigers program seven straight 10-win seasons, something only Alabama has duplicated. Only Alabama has more wins the last seven years than Clemson with 89 (89-9).

Clemson also has the second best winning percentage at .845. Only Alabama has a better percentage at .906.

NOTES OF INTEREST

Clemson's 1981 National Championship team was the first ACC team to win 12 games in a season. Florida State did it five times between 1993 and 2014. The Seminoles actually had a streak of three seasons with at least 12 wins from 2012-14. They won a record 14 games (14-0) in 2013, then Clemson tied the mark the last two years.

Pittsburgh and Miami had 12 win seasons previously, but they were not in the ACC at the time.

CLEMSON 11-2 IN TOP 15 MATCHUPS LAST 3 YEARS

Clemson had top 15 matchups over Auburn, Louisville, Virginia Tech, Miami, and Alabama in 2017. The Tigers won five and became the first team since the AP poll started in 1936 to beat three teams in the top 15 in the month of September. The last team to beat three top 15 teams in their first five games of the season was Notre Dame in 1980.

The Tigers are very experienced in big games the last three years. The Alabama game in the Sugar Bowl was the 13th matchup of top 15 teams since the start of 2015. That dates to October 3, 2015 when 11th ranked Clemson played No. 6 Notre Dame at Clemson in the ABC Saturday Night game of the week. Clemson is 11-2 in Top 15 matchups over the last three years.

SEVEN STRAIGHT 10-WIN SEASON

Clemson has a streak of seven consecutive seasons of at least 10 wins entering the 2018 season. That is tied for the sixth longest streak in FBS history and only nine programs have had a streak of at least seven 10-win seasons. The record for consecutive 10-win seasons is 14 years in a row set by Bobby Bowden's Florida State Seminoles (1987-00). Alabama is the only other program with an active streak of at least seven straight 10-win seasons.

CLEMSON IS JUST NINTH ACC TEAM WITH 12 WINS

Clemson became just the ninth ACC school with 12 wins in a season when it defeated Miami (FL) in the ACC Championship game. It is the third straight year Clemson has done it as the Tigers were 14-1 in 2015 and 2016.

COACHES

HEAD COACH DABO SWINNEY

There is a strong coaching heritage over the 121 years of Clemson football that dates to the early 1900s, when John Heisman led the program. Jess Neely, Frank Howard and Danny Ford continued the winning and joined Heisman in the College Football Hall of Fame.

Dabo Swinney has been at Clemson for just 10 years as head coach, but he cemented himself as a coaching legend when he led the Tigers to the 2016 national championship, the second in school history (1981).

The Tigers maintained that elite status in 2017 despite having only six scholarship seniors and losing most of their offensive firepower from 2016. The 2017 season might be the best for Swinney, who was a finalist for the AP, Bear Bryant, Dodd, Eddie Robinson and George Munger Coach-of-the-Year Awards. That is saying something for someone who has been named national coach-of-the-year by at least one service four of the previous six years.

Offensively, Swinney had to replace players who accounted for 77 percent of the offense during the 2016 national championship season.

While Clemson was ranked No. 5 in the preseason AP poll, few expected the Tigers to be ranked No. 1 in both polls and the College Football Playoff ranking entering the bowl season. In fact, Clemson was not even the preseason choice to win the ACC Atlantic Division. But the Tigers won for the third year in a row (a first for the program since 1986-88).

Despite the setback in the Sugar Bowl to the eventual national champion, Alabama, Clemson finished ranked No. 4 in both polls. Swinney joined Bobby Bowden as the only ACC head coaches to lead a program to a final top-five ranking three straight years.

Clemson's school-record six wins over top-25 teams, also a national best, included a school-record four on opponents' home fields and five away from home. Clemson defeated top-15 teams Auburn, Louisville and Virginia Tech in September, the first team in FBS history to record three top-15 wins in September.

While many focused on the play of the offense, led by quarterback Kelly Bryant, the defense was once again among the nation's best. The front four featured three players who earned first-team All-America honors. All four made at least one all-conference team.

The defense featured four players who were named All-American, and they were a big reason Clemson was in the top four in the nation in scoring defense (No. 2) and total defense (No. 4). Clemson led the ACC in the four major defensive categories (scoring, total, rushing, passing), something it had never done.

Clemson defeated the top-two teams in the national polls in consecutive games in the College Football Playoff at the end of the 2016 season. The Tigers blanked Ohio State 31-0 in the Fiesta Bowl, the first shutout suffered by head coach Urban Meyer in his career and the first for Ohio State since 1993.

The Tigers then earned a rematch with No. 1 Alabama, and for the first time in school history took down the top-ranked team in a second epic battle with the Crimson Tide. Deshaun Watson's touchdown pass to Hunter Renfrow with one second left gave Clemson a 35-31 win in Tampa, Fla. Swinney won the Bear Bryant Award as national coach-of-the-year for the second consecutive season.

With a preseason No. 2 national ranking, the 2016 Tigers lived up to the hype after compiling a 14-1 record and earning a spot in the College Football Playoff for the second-straight year. Along the way, Clemson knocked off five top-25 foes, including No. 3 Louisville. The Tigers exorcised several road demons, winning at historically tough places such as Auburn, Georgia Tech and Florida State.

Swinney coached Watson to two record-setting seasons. The two-time Heisman Trophy finalist became the first player in FBS history to total 4,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards in a season in 2015, and he followed by setting an ACC record with 41 passing touchdowns in 2016.

Watson was named ACC Player-of-the-Year in 2015 and MVP of the ACC Championship Game in both 2015 and 2016. He won the Davey O'Brien Award and Manning Award in back-to-back seasons and was named MVP of Clemson's Fiesta Bowl and national championship game wins.

From 2011-17, Clemson compiled an 82-15 record, the most wins in a seven-year period in school history. Fifty-three of the victories came against ACC teams. The 2017 seniors had a school and ACC-record 50 wins as well.

Clemson was in the top 10 of APR scores and the final top 25 of the AP and USA Today polls from 2011-15, the only FBS program that could make that claim.

In 10 years (nine full seasons) as the Tigers' head coach, Swinney has directed Clemson to a 101-30 overall record (.771, best by a Tiger coach) and 61-16 ACC regular-season mark (.792). He has also led the Tigers to the ACC Championship Game five times, won four ACC titles, won or shared six ACC Atlantic Division titles and won seven bowl games (five against top-10 teams). His teams have compiled 26 wins over ranked teams in his head-coaching career, including 13 over top-10 opponents.

Swinney guided Clemson to the No. 1 national ranking in every College Football Playoff poll in 2015 and led the Tigers to their first national championship game appearance under the new format after his team defeated Oklahoma 37-17 in the 2015 Orange Bowl. The Tigers led Alabama in the fourth quarter of the championship contest, but came up just short (45-40) in an epic game in Glendale, Ariz.

Following the team's 14-1 record and No. 2 final ranking, he was the recipient of 10 national and two ACC coach-of-the-year honors. The Tigers defeated four teams that finished the season in the top 15 of both polls.

In 2015, a Tiger-record 17 players were named to one of three All-ACC teams, including all five starting offensive linemen for the first time in school history. In 2016, 15 players were honored, including a school-record three First-Team All-ACC offensive line selections.

The 2012, 2013 and 2014 seasons were also noteworthy, with three top-15 final rankings in the polls. Clemson joined Alabama, Florida State, Ohio State and Oregon as the only schools in the nation to make that claim. Each of Clemson's teams from 2011-17 also registered double-digit victories, the first time the program did it seven straight seasons. Only Alabama has duplicated the feat.

With the 2014 Russell Athletic Bowl victory (40-6) over Oklahoma, Swinney became the first and only coach in history to win three bowl games in consecutive seasons over teams whose head coaches had previously won the national title. He upped that mark to five years in a row in 2016.

Clemson capped off the 2013 season with a thrilling 40-35 victory over No. 6 Ohio State in the Orange Bowl. Clemson had an 11-2 record after finishing 7-1 in ACC regular-season games. It marked Clemson's first back-to-back 11-win seasons in school history. For the fourth time in his first five full seasons as head coach, Swinney was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual National Coach-of-the-Year award in 2013.

The 2012 season (11-2) was a groundbreaking year for Swinney's Tigers when looking at the overall consistency of the program. The seven conference wins in the regular season were then a school record, while Clemson was co-champion of the ACC Atlantic Division.

With Clemson's thrilling 25-24 win over No. 7 Louisiana State in the 2012 Chick-fil-A Bowl, the Tigers finished the season ranked No. 9 in the USA Today poll. It was Clemson's first top-10 finish in one of the two major polls since 1990. Clemson also reached the 11-win mark for the first time since its 1981 national championship season. The Tigers finished No. 14 in the final BCS standings as well.

Swinney's 2011 squad, which ended the season ranked No. 22 in the nation, captured Clemson's first ACC title since 1991 when it beat No. 3 Virginia Tech 38-10 in the ACC Championship Game in Charlotte, N.C. The Tigers' second win over the Hokies in 2011 gave Clemson its first 10-win season since 1990.

For his efforts, Swinney was named Bobby Dodd National Coach-of-the-Year in 2011 to become the first Tiger head coach to win a national coach-of-the-year award since 1981, when Ford directed Clemson to the national title.

Swinney became just the second Tiger coach to lead Clemson's program to a bowl game in his first two full years as head coach, joining his predecessor, Tommy Bowden. The 2010 schedule was one of the most challenging in school history, as nine bowl teams were on the regular-season slate and two of the four non-conference opponents were ranked in the top 25.

In 2009, Swinney's first full year as head coach, he led the Tigers to their first championship of the ACC Atlantic Division. The Tigers came just six points short of winning their first ACC title in 18 years. Swinney was named ACC coach-of-the-year by Sporting News and was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual Coach-of-the-Year award.

In October 2008, Swinney was named Clemson's interim head coach, replacing Bowden, who had been his position coach as a player at Alabama and was Clemson's head coach since 1999. He led the Tigers to a 4-2 record during the remainder of the 2008 regular season, including a win over South Carolina in the regular-season finale. That strong finish led to a Gator Bowl bid against Nebraska.

On Dec. 1, 2008, the interim tag was removed from the title and he was named the program's head coach. At the time, there had been 28 interim head coaches at the FBS level since 1970, and those coaches had combined for a record of 26-86-2. Only one of those 28 interim coaches posted a winning record, and that was Swinney. When he was hired as head coach, he became just the second interim coach to be elevated to the head coach position at the same school during that time period.

Swinney hit the ground running in his first week as interim head coach, as he prepared for a 5-1 Georgia Tech team. He had to reorganize his staff and regroup his team and the fanbase in just five days. While the Tigers lost by four points, he accomplished many goals in that first week through his outstanding leadership. One of the most impressive demonstrations of unity came during the team's "Tiger Walk."

Swinney has demonstrated his community involvement through Dabo's All In Team Foundation, which made the first contribution to the cancer fund established for former Boston College linebacker Mark Herzlich. Many schools followed his lead during the remainder of the season.

The 1993 Alabama graduate joined the Clemson staff prior to the 2003 season. In his first 15 years as an assistant or head coach, the Tigers finished in the top 25 of the polls 11 times and totaled 29 wins over top-25 teams, including victories over Florida State (7), Virginia Tech (3), Auburn (2), Miami (Fla.) (2), Ohio State (2), Oklahoma

(2), Alabama (1), Georgia (1), Louisiana State (1) and Tennessee (1) during his tenure in Tigertown.

Swinney coached his wide receiver position to a level of consistency that had not been seen previously at Clemson. He had a wideout finish first or second in the ACC in catches in five of his six years as an assistant coach. In his first year, he had three of the top-10 receivers in the ACC, a first in Tiger history. He has coached a First or Second-Team All-ACC wideout (Derrick Hamilton, Airese Currie, Chansi Stuckey, Aaron Kelly, Jacoby Ford, Sammy Watkins, DeAndre Hopkins, Artavis Scott, Mike Williams) in 13 of his 15 seasons in Tigertown, also unprecedented at Clemson.

The Alabama native has a reputation as one of the top recruiters in the nation. In 2006, he was listed as the No. 5 recruiter in the nation by Rivals. He signed 38 players in his five recruiting seasons as an assistant coach and was a major reason Clemson's 2008 recruiting class was rated No. 2 in the nation by ESPN when he signed 11 players.

When Swinney accepted the interim head coaching position at Clemson on Oct. 13, 2008, he described his feelings as "bittersweet," because he was taking over for Bowden, who had been his first position coach at Alabama in the 1989 season. He had also brought Swinney back to the coaching profession in 2003 and has had a profound effect on his life. Both had followed similar paths as players, as Bowden was a walk-on at West Virginia and Swinney was a walk-on at Alabama.

Swinney received a commerce & business administration degree from Alabama in 1993 after lettering three times (1990-92). A walk-on who went on to earn a scholarship, Swinney was a wide receiver on Alabama's 1992 national championship team. He was also named Academic All-SEC along with being an SEC Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll member in 1990 and 1992.

Along with his appearance in the 1993 Sugar Bowl, his Alabama teams played in the 1990 Sugar Bowl, 1991 Fiesta Bowl and 1991 Blockbuster Bowl. Both Sugar Bowl appearances came after winning the SEC title game.

After his playing career, Swinney served as a graduate assistant at Alabama from 1993-95. In December 1995, he received a master's degree in business administration from Alabama.

He became a full-time assistant coach at Alabama in February 1996 under head coach Gene Stallings and coached a total of five seasons there on a full-time basis. Swinney was assigned to coach the Crimson Tide's wide receivers and tight ends in 1996, a season that saw Alabama win the SEC Western Division title. The following year, he solely coached the tight ends.

In 1998, he coached Alabama's wide receivers, a position he held for three seasons. At the end of the 1999 campaign, Swinney coached the Crimson Tide in the 2000 Orange Bowl after winning the SEC Championship Game.

During his time at Alabama, Swinney was a part of six teams with double-digit wins, five top-10 finishes, one national title (1992), three SEC championships (1989,92,99) and five SEC Western Division titles (1992,93,94,96,99) as a player and coach.

Swinney married the former Kathleen Bassett in 1994. They have three sons, Will (19), Drew (17) and Clay (14). Will was a freshman on the 2017 Tiger football team and the starting holder.

REED

Assistant Coach
Cornerbacks

- In five years on staff, he has helped the Tigers to a 61-9 record and two appearances in the national championship game. The 2016 team won the school's second national title after defeating No. 1 Alabama.
- His cornerbacks were a big reason Clemson was fifth in the nation in pass efficiency defense (106.9) and 2nd in yards attempted in 2017.
- Coached two First-Team All-ACC defensive backs in 2016, safety Jadar Johnson and cornerback Cordrea Tankersley.
- His defensive backs were a big reason the 2015 Tigers were fourth in the nation in third-down conversion percentage defense.
- Coached First-Team All-ACC cornerback Mackensie Alexander, Second-Team All-ACC safety Jayron Kearse and Third-Team All-ACC cornerback Cordrea Tankersley in 2015.
- His defensive backs were a big reason the 2014 defense led the nation in total defense (260.8), while it was in the top five in many other statistical categories. He also coached cornerback Garry Peters, who was a First-Team All-ACC selection.
- His defensive backs combined for 15 interceptions in 2013. Bashaud Breeland, who had a team-tying-high four interceptions and 74 tackles, was a Second-Team All-ACC selection and a fourth-round draft pick.
- His defensive backs were a big reason Clemson was 10th in the nation in turnovers forced (30) in 2013.
- Was the defensive backs coach at NC State for six seasons (2007-12).
- Has been an assistant coach at the college level for 13 years and at the NFL level for five seasons. He coached NC State All-American David Amerson, who was third in ACC history in career interceptions (18). As a professional coach with the Philadelphia Eagles, he worked with former Clemson All-American and nine-time Pro Bowl selection Brian Dawkins.
- Helped the Wolfpack to four bowl games in his six years with the program. That includes 2012, when NC State beat a top-five Florida State team and played Vanderbilt in the Music City Bowl.
- Three times in his last five years there, NC State finished in the top 20 in the nation in interceptions, including 2012 when it was 20th with 16 interceptions.
- The 2011 NC State squad had 27 interceptions, the most by an FBS school since 2003, when Nebraska had 32. The total tied for second-most in ACC history and the most since 1994, when Virginia had 27 interceptions.
- In 2011, Amerson had 13 interceptions to lead the nation, five more than any other player. It tied for the third-most interceptions in NCAA history. Amerson also led the nation in interception return yards (205) and tied for the lead in interception returns for touchdown (2). Amerson was a unanimous All-American in 2011, when he was also a Thorpe Award finalist and won the Jack Tatum Award.
- In addition to Amerson, Reed also coached four different all-conference players at NC State across six seasons.
- Played on three bowl teams that finished with top-25 AP rankings, including the 1993 season when Boston College upset top-ranked Notre Dame in South Bend.
- Played three seasons for Tom Coughlin, who has gone on to win two Super Bowl Championships with the New York Giants, and his senior year for Dan Henning, who also went on to coach in the NFL.
- Was the last selection of the 1995 NFL draft by the Carolina Panthers and played two seasons (1995,96) for that team, including the 1995 team that played its home games at Memorial Stadium. He also played for the NFL Europe team in Frankfurt and was the team captain of the 1999 team that won the World Bowl Championship.

BRANDON STREETER

Assistant Coach
Quarterbacks / Recruiting Coordinator

- Came to Clemson as the recruiting coordinator and quarterbacks coach in December 2014 after serving three seasons (2012-14) as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Richmond.
- Quarterbacks coach-of-the-year by 247Sports in 2017.
- Coached Kelly Bryant in 2017. Bryant was a Manning Award finalist and Davey O'Brien Award semifinalist.
- As recruiting coordinator, he spearheaded Clemson's consensus top-10 class in February 2016 and 2017.
- Coached Clemson's first two-time Heisman Trophy finalist, Deshaun Watson. He became the first player in FBS history with at least 4,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards in a season in 2015, and ended his career in dramatic fashion as the Most Valuable Offensive Player of Clemson's 35-31 win over Alabama that delivered the school's second national championship in 2016.
- Watson was a two-time recipient of the Davey O'Brien and Manning awards, given to the nation's top quarterback. He also won the 2016 Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and 2016 Bobby Bowden Award.
- Helped the 2015 Tigers to 11 straight games with at least 500 yards of total offense, a school record.
- Six of the seven teams he worked with as an offensive coordinator from 2008-14 finished the season in the top 25 of the FCS poll. That included the 2014 Richmond team that entered the FCS playoffs ranked No. 16. Five of the last eight teams were conference champions or co-champions, and Clemson has finished in the top-two in each of his two seasons.
- Helped the 2014 Richmond team to a 9-5 record and a bid to the FCS playoffs, as the Spiders reached the second round.
- Guided Richmond to a top-20 finish in passing offense each year from 2012-14. That included a 314-yard average, eighth-best in the nation, in 2014. The Spiders also averaged 461 yards per game, 19th-most in the nation, and were second in third-down conversion percentage (51.6) and third in first downs (332).
- Richmond was seventh in the nation in passing yards (328) in 2013. Virtually every Richmond individual game, season and career school passing record was established during the 2013 season. The 2012 Richmond offense was 20th in passing offense and 21st in scoring offense. The Spider offense saw five players earn All-CAA recognition.
- Streeter served as quarterbacks coach at Liberty for six years, the last three as offensive coordinator. In 2011, Liberty led the Big South Conference in passing yards and pass efficiency.
- In 2010, Liberty averaged 36.5 points per game, a better mark than in 2009, when the Flames led the nation in scoring (36.4). That Liberty team won the Big South Conference title for a fourth straight year.
- Served as a graduate assistant at Clemson in 2004 and 2005, when Dabo Swinney was an assistant coach. Streeter worked with quarterback Charlie Whitehurst during those two seasons.
- Three-time letterman at Clemson from 1997-99. He was Clemson's starting quarterback the last two years. He was also a three-time member of the ACC Academic Honor Roll.

Clemson's 17-member scholarship class included players from eight states. Six of the players were ranked as the best in their respective state by either ESPN.com or Rivals.com. Clemson signed the number-one player according to at least one service from North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Ohio, Alabama and Georgia. Twelve of the 17 scholarship players in the class are ranked in the ESPN Top 300, including 10 in the top 150. It is tied for the most top 150 players according to ESPN in Clemson history and the most since 2008 when Clemson had 10 top 150 ESPN ranked players in Tommy Bowden's final recruiting class.
